

Efficient conduct of political meetings

- Simplify and streamline political meetings. Handle last-minute changes and cancellations, and communicate directly with politicians in the chamber or online.

About the solution

FirstAgenda Live is a solution for streamlining the conduct of digital meetings and currently has over 2,000 users.

FirstAgenda Live is an independent product in a comprehensive meeting package designed to provide full control and overview of the many processes involved in a political meeting.

The solution creates a digital council where meeting leadership and secretariat communicate directly with meeting participants in the chamber, and transparency is achieved through the large screen.

FirstAgenda Live has deep integration with FirstAgenda Prepare, meaning meeting participants can access FirstAgenda Live and all its features from their familiar FirstAgenda Prepare app.

Administration

One of the most important aspects for administration is the easy and smooth conduct of meetings, minimizing the possibility of human errors.

In the administration section, the meeting leader can initiate voting with a few clicks and automatically tally all votes. The meeting leader has full control over what is displayed on the large screen in the meeting room and who will speak next on the speaker list.

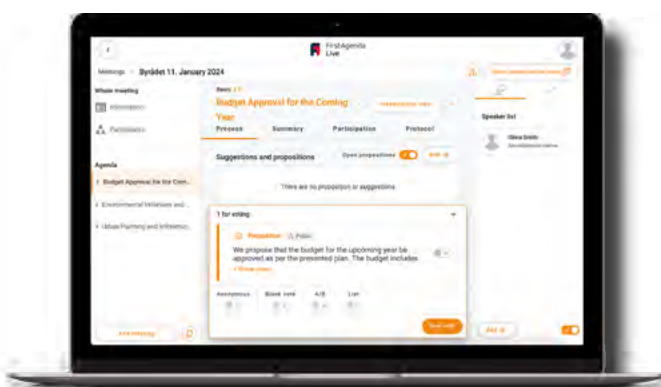

Meeting participant

Before the meeting, participants can quickly submit proposals for agenda items, which can then be addressed during the meeting.

If they are unable to attend, they can simply decline, and a substitute will automatically be called in for them.

During the meeting, they can join the speaker list, cast their vote, and follow the progress of the meeting on both the large screen and in the app.
